So here's how the whole show began...

This project originally started in 2001 as a production show that was produced by Jerry A. Ranger along with Peter Matz (musical director of "The Carol Burnett Show"), but it was shelved in late 2001.

Cut to 2011...I was talking with Jerry about my dream and looking for a project to do, a songbook show. He mentioned to me that he had produced a wonderful Sammy Cahn show back in 2001, but it never went anywhere. I was so intrigued by the thought of doing a show with songs made famous by Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis, Bing Crosby, and Doris Day, etc. that my creative juices were spurred and I decided to create a comedic tribute show...I wanted to hear more of the music!

I asked Jerry if he had the original master and he located a reference recording. I was amazed and blown away at the recordings that were made right here in Burbank. Now, I really wanted to do this show!

Jerry started searching for the 24-track master recording. After a few months of biting my finger nails and the searching went by, Jerry finally realized that he had retained the 24-inch show reel in his garage! He said "here it is" and gifted me these amazing recordings and the orchestrations.

I immediately took the huge reel, dipped into my meager savings account, and went to a local recording studio and had the entire 24-track reel transferred to the digital domain...which was no easy task. At the time of the original recording sessions, (2001) they were produced in a state-of-the-art recording technique. Recorded in Dolby SR (a process to remove all surface noise from the analogue tape), the problem now was that the recording processes had advanced so fast that studios completely abandoned Dolby SR for recording purposes. The studio found a Dolby SR translator and we hooked it up to the 24 track playback...now came the other problem...will it playback or was the recording lost to time and tape shrinkage?

We crossed our fingers and started the tape rolling across the tape heads...and what came out was studio chatter, the sound of Peter Matz counting off the orchestra...and BAM...a glorious full stereophonic live 17 piece orchestra augmented with a full percussion section that came roaring out of the studio monitors!

Unbelievable...suddenly my dream was possible!
